EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with George Kap on 1/19/05.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claims

- Claim 1 (amended) A method for initiating detonation in a combustible material comprising the step of injecting a jet material into a chamber filled with the combustible material from different directions to create a jet impinging region; generate generating imploding shocks that increase temperature and pressure in the jet impinging region to the point of initiating detonation in the combustible material without using a separate ignition source of another type.
- Claim 3, "combustible" has been replaced by -jet-.
- Claim 4, "gaseous substance" has been replaced by -jet material-.
- Claim 12 (amended) An apparatus comprising a chamber that ~~can be~~ can be filled with a combustible material; a filling port for admitting the combustible material into the chamber; ~~at least one opening in the chamber~~ means for admitting jet material into the chamber from different directions to create a jet impingement region where imploding shocks are generated ~~imploding shocks~~ for detonation initiation without using a separate ignition source of another type; and an exit opening in the chamber for allowing combustion products from detonation initiation ~~method~~ to exit the chamber

- Claim 20, last line the space after “valve” has been deleted.
- Claim 21 has been canceled as this claim is not believed to be enabled by current material technology.
- Claim 22, “claim 21” has been replaced by –claim 12--.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner’s statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record do not fairly teach in permissible combination the claimed invention. Applicant’s invention is a paradigm shift away from separate igniters to initiate detonation to one where the impinging jets in an impingement jet area are at sufficient pressure and temperature to create imploding shocks to the point of initiating detonation. In the apparatus claim, the “means for ...” language was used as the novelty lies in the functional language, not in the mere structure (i.e. opening) and thus to ensure it being given weight. Igniterless combustion is known per se, e.g. hypergolic combustion by Harp, Jr 3,545,211 (col. 2, lines 48-52) with a shock wave (which appears to be the detonation front). However, there will be no imploding shocks generated as impingement of hypergolic fuels will react as soon as they come in contact and thus prevent the fluidic temperature and pressure rise associated with the jet impingement that creates the imploding shocks.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
